U. S. Reinforcements Are Landed In Korea Tank Division Makes Amphibious Landing

Siege Assault On Taejon Is Made By Reds

Communist Troops
On East Coast
Are Driven Back

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, July 20.—(Thursday)—Two fresh American divisions—one of them put ashore amphibiously—were hurled into action on the Korean front today as Communist troops retreated under Allied land, sea and air attacks up the east coast, above a newly-established U. S. beachhead.

The staggering blows against the North Korean invaders' extreme eastern wing were struck as Red forces renewed the siege assault on Taejon in the western sector and pushed south in the central area in a flanking drive to within 39 miles of the lifeline Pusan-Taejon railroad.

Tank Forces Land

American ground forces engaged in the conflict were increased to three divisions after the U. S. First Cavalry Division, complete with tanks and all other implements of modern war, flocked ashore by the thousands less than 40 miles south of the enemy's eastern anchor.

The mechanized First Cavalry, borne by a powerful naval fleet that raced across the Japan Sea ahead of a threatening typhoon, landed unopposed at Pohang Tuesday following the arrival of the famous "Tropic Lightning" U. S. 25th Infantry Division at the Korean front.

Units of the 25th already were presumed in action alongside the battlewagon U. S. 24th Infantry Division, resisting North Korean invasion forces that ended a three-day lull Wednesday by storming the north and northwest outskirts of Taejon.

Forces Increased

(In Washington, the Pentagon said that, although figures of speakeasy normal strength of a U. S. Army division is 18,000. This would indicate a possible total of some 56,400 American ground troops now engaged in South Korea.)

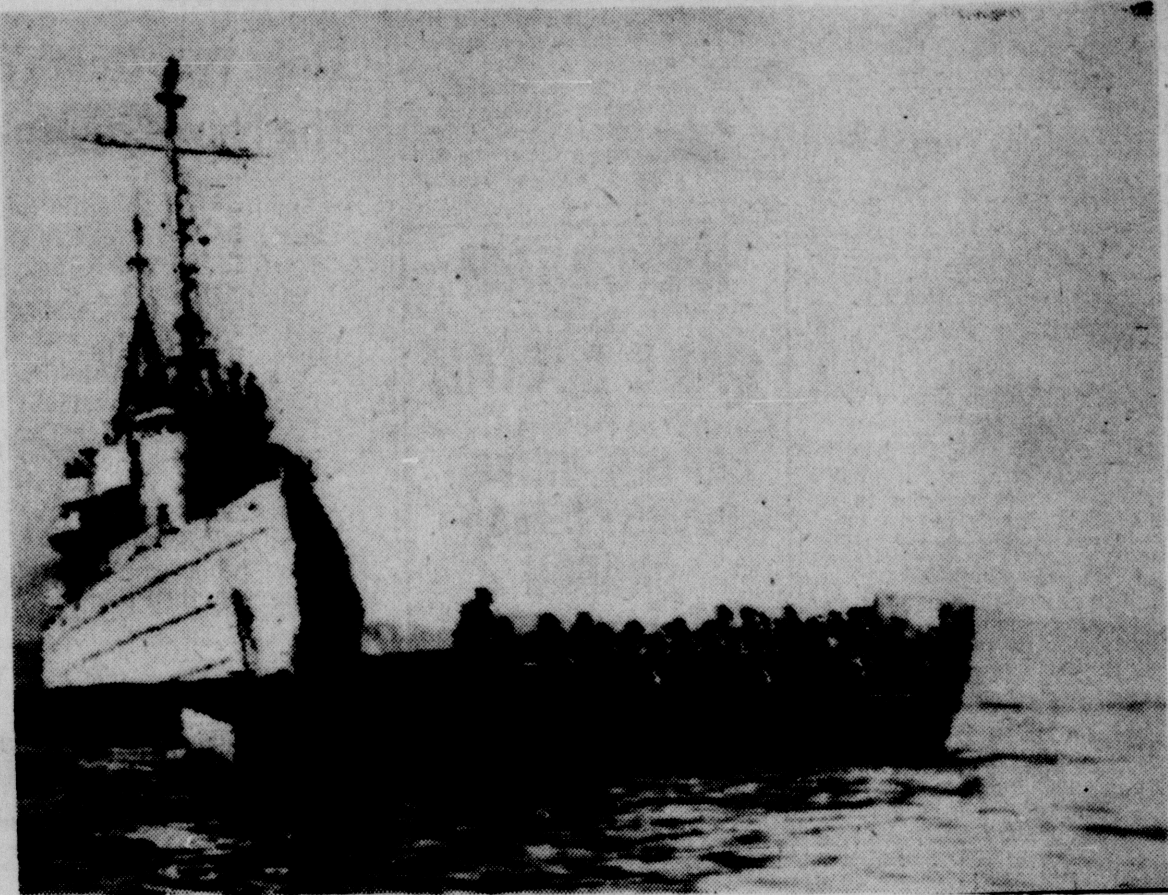

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced in a communique at 12:45 p. m. EDT Wednesday that "Communist forces are continuing to be pushed back north of Yangdok on the east coast."

He said the invaders' withdrawals up South Korea's eastern seaboard were being imposed by "steady pressure from United Nations ground forces and harassing naval fire and naval aircraft bombing and strafing."

Troops Not Identified
The supreme commander did not identify the units.

Navy Carrier Force Strikes Heavy Blow In Korea

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The navy reported today that its carrier task force struck a devastating blow at Korean communist fuel supplies when U. S. planes raided a large oil refinery at Wonsan in North Korea and left it in flames. A navy spokesman said the flames from the burning refinery could be seen for a distance of 60 miles. He said the raid by navy planes occurred after the amphibious landing at Pohang on the east Korean coast yesterday.

No U. S. Casualties

The navy said that there were no American casualties either in the landing operation or the carrier plane strikes.

In addition to Wonsan, a number of other points in North Korea and moving targets such as trucks and railroad trains were struck by planes from the carrier force.

A total of 14 North Korean planes were definitely destroyed on the

Sampson Street Work To Start

Announcement was made today by Alfred A. Martin, County Highway superintendent, that resurfacing of Sampson street along Route 422 within the city will start Friday.

A two and one-half inch application of surface material will be applied to the street between Grant street and the start of the new highway at the city limits. During the progress of the work, partial flow of traffic will be maintained to avoid congestion on other streets.

The work, according to Martin, will take several days to complete, but when finished will provide a smooth approach from the city line to Grant street. It is expected that if good weather continues, work on resurfacing a portion of Route 88, on Line avenue of Ellwood City, should be completed by Thursday. Traffic has been detoured during the course of that work.

France Takes Step To Aid In Korea

PARIS, July 19.—(INS)—France took her first active step today to fulfill a pledge of assistance to the United Nations in Korea by assigning a naval sloop to the battle.

The cabinet decided to place the 1,969 ton dispatch boat La Grandiere at the disposal of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

The vessel, now believed to be in Indo-China waters, is 340 feet in length and carries three 5.5 inch guns, four 40-millimeter anti-aircraft guns and eleven 20-millimeter anti-aircraft guns.

Built in 1939, she has a normal speed of 15.5 knots.

Meanwhile, authoritative sources said that Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will recommend that a token force of ground troops be sent to Korea.

U.S. FORCES IN AMPHIBIOUS LANDING

First Cavalry Division was landed by the 7th Fleet at Pohang (U. S. arrows) in fastest amphibious operation in history. Landing was made to forestall drive toward South Korean supply port of Pusan by North Korean forces, who, Tuesday took Yondok. (Reds arrow.)

By FRANK EMERY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

POHANG, Korea, July 19.—The famed U. S. First Cavalry Division swiftly expanded its beachhead in the Pohang area on the east coast of Korea today—less than 40 miles from the Communist front lines.

The cavalry men, whose mounts are tanks instead of horses, landed at Dawn Tuesday and quickly carved out a big perimeter to protect a new American fighter plane base.

The "point" of the First Cavalry patrols was at least ten miles inland by nightfall.

The veteran Pacific Division—the one that spearheaded the liberating drive into Manila during World War II—landed without incident.

Civil Defense Program Is Being Mapped For State

By ED HAUCK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

INDIAN GAP, PA., July 19.—Pennsylvania's Civilian Defense leaders today anticipate a broad emergency protection program including the possible services of the war time Home Guard.

The home front outlook including expansion of air raid warning posts was scanned by the State Civilian Defense Committee and Gov. James H. Duff yesterday at the opening of a two-day conference on the Indian Gap Military Reservation.

Duff disclosed that State Adj. Gen. F. A. Weber is ready to activate the Home Guard for duty should the Pennsylvania National Guard be called into Federal Service in view of the fighting in Korea.

"The arrangements have been completed and would become effective immediately," Duff said last night.

"It is impossible to exaggerate the situation confronting America," the governor declared. "I doubt if there was ever a time when such a situation has been ever more serious by the hour."

House Moves To Approve Arms Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The House moved swiftly today toward overwhelming approval of the $1,222,500,000 arms aid bill.

There is a good possibility that the measure will not be amended and that a final House vote can be taken by nightfall. The bill, already approved unanimously by the Senate, then would be sent to the White House.

Only a handful of votes is expected to be a cast against the measure, the "second installment" in the United States program of rearming friendly non-Communist nations.

Voting on the bill will get underway immediately after the reading of President Truman's special message to the Korean war shortly after noon.

For Fact Allies

The measure provides: One billion dollars for the North Atlantic pact allies, $131,500,000 for Greece, Turkey and Iran, 75 million for the general area of China, and 16 million for South Korea and the Philippines.

Under a transfer provision, the President could allocate around 200 million dollars for use in Korea.

The measure also authorizes: Expenditure of a carryover of 214 millions from the preceding year, the transfer of 400 millions worth of surplus military equipment to allied nations, and extension of 100 millions in credits to nation desiring to purchase arms in this country.

Typhoon Warning For Part Of Japan

TOKYO, July 19.—(INS)—A typhoon warning for Kyushu and Shikoku islands in southwestern Japan was issued today by the central weather bureau in Tokyo.

The approaching storm was reported 199 miles south-southwest of Kyushu at 4 a. m. Wednesday. It is expected to sweep the western coast of Kyushu and move into the Tsushima Strait between Japan and Korea.

Winds of hurricane strength already are lashing an area within 250 miles from the typhoon's center. Wind velocity in the center of the storm was registered at 90 miles per hour.

DIES IN FALL

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Relatives today blamed ill health and "moodiness" for the fatal plunge which killed 25-year-old Eugene D. Trapani. Eugene either leaped or fell nearly 200 feet from the Bloomfield bridge yesterday in Pittsburgh.

President Asks For Ten Billions And War Powers

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 19.—President Truman today asked Congress for $10,000,000,000 to win the Korean conflict and meet the threat of Communist aggression anywhere in the world.

The president called for broad authority for an unlimited increase in American armed strength and controls over industrial power.

He disclosed that he has authorized Defense Secretary Johnson to call up the Reserves and the National Guard as necessary.

The president said he will ask for higher taxes, and that he will submit "a balanced tax program" having as its major aim "the elimination of profiteering."

The chief executive asked legislation imposing curbs on consumer credit and speculation, and for priorities and allocations on vital materials, safeguards against hoarding, and limitations on non-military use of strategic materials.

Mr. Truman warned that if prices rise sharply, he will not hesitate to impose price controls and rationing.

He told the world that the significance of the Korean war "cannot be overestimated." Then he bluntly warned Russia that "new recourse to aggression in the world today might well strain to the breaking point the fabric of world peace."

The President also made it clear that the United States will refuse to accept the reported proposal by Soviet Premier Stalin to mediate in the Korean war in return for seating of a Chinese Communist delegation in the United Nations.

Moving As Fast As Possible
The President said that the United States is moving "as rapidly as possible to bring to bear on the fighting front larger forces and heavier equipment, and to increase our naval and air superiority."

He warned, however: "But it will take time, men, and material to slow down the forces of aggression, bring those forces to a halt, and throw them back."

He made no prediction as to when victory will come. But he pledged that the United States will "increase its military strength and preparedness not only to deal with the aggression in Korea but also to increase our common defense, with other free nations, against further aggression."

Mr. Truman said that as soon as possible he will ask Congress for funds to provide additional assistance "to increase the strength of certain other free nations whose security is vital to our own."

The historic message, 7,500 words in length, was the second longest Mr. Truman ever has sent to Congress.

To Address People Tonight
The President will follow it up with a radio-television address to the nation tonight at 10:30 p. m. (EDT).

The President said he has already directed the Defense department "to exceed the budgeted strength" of the nation's fighting arms, to use the draft "to such extent as may be required" and to call up "as many National Guard units and as many units and individuals of the reserve forces . . . as may be required."

Mr. Truman said that "must" (Continued on Page Nine)

Arthur Mometer

When I was a lad and a fishing went, which wasn't too often, you see, the matter of tackle or clothing or creel was most unimportant to me. A long hickory pole and a strong piece of twine and a hook and some worms were enough. Just sit on the bank and toss in the line. But today when a youngster goes fishing it seems, his equipment's important, oh quite, he must have the best in equipment and say, the flies and the reel must be right. He doesn't catch many more fish than I did, well not quite so many I'd say, it may be the fish are much smarter by now, it's bright, 82 today.

Skeletons Help Crime Detector

EUGENE, Ore.—(U.S.)—There is no truth in the cliché, "dead men carry no tales."

Dr. William S. Laughlin, University of Oregon anthropologist, says human skeletons are useful in crime detection because of the bones of a dead man reveal his age, sex, race, stature, blood type and whether he was right or left handed.

"Many crimes in the United States go undetected," Laughlin said, "because people are in such a rush to bury bodies. Anthropologists can identify unknown bodies if given a chance to examine the skeletons."

Laughlin said the skull of a person tells the age of a person by the closing of the bones down the center of the head. The bones begin to close when a person is about 22.

"Don't think that a large skull means superior intelligence," he warned. "There is no relation between cranial capacity and intelligence."

Laughlin said the University of Oregon anthropology department is building a collection of skeletons varying from Eskimos to Patagonians. These skeletons will aid the department in doing detection work for the state of Oregon and Willamette Valley law enforcement agencies.

The air force simultaneously announced that its pilots destroyed 15 planes on the ground yesterday in addition to three listed as destroyed in the air.

The carrier used in the navy's operation was not named, but the 27,000-ton Valley Forge is the only U. S. flattop known to be in the far east.

The navy said it conducted "two full strikes," using about 50 planes in each series of attacks.

situation may eventually be at the control of the small group in the Kremlin.

"In no other serious crisis have we ever been infiltrated by a large group of persons in key spots. It is hostile to our country. The responsibility of every group at home is even greater than ever before."

Pennsylvania, with its tremendous industrial concentration has the very guts it takes to wage a war but we are also a prime target."

Governor Duff urged the 400 Civilian Defense Coordinators to "do their jobs at home on a co-operative basis with the state plan."

Pennsylvania's program is built on a national program drafted for the Federal Government four years ago.

Air Raid Warning Posts

Col. Lewis F. Acker, executive director of the Committee, reported plans to have 600 air raid warning posts manned by September 1.

Two hundred posts have been established while others are being set up at the rate of eight a day. May 1 was the deadline for completing the task.

A proclamation will be sent out next week urging municipalities to enlist residents in local defense organizations, Acker reported.

He said advisory groups, similar to the eight-member State Committee, will be appointed in municipalities to spearhead the drive for preparedness and execution of the local training programs.

First priority, said Acker, will be the establishment of the overall defense organization.

Community leaders then will concentrate on (1) establishment of an air-ground observation system (2) establishment of a civilian air raid warning system and (3) a survey of all existing physical facilities, such as hospitals, water, electricity.

ROLAND CRISCI WED TUESDAY IN ARKANSAS

In a ceremony which attracted wide interest in Earle, Arkansas, Memphis, Tenn., and this city, at the First Presbyterian church of Earle, Tuesday evening, July 18, Miss Agnes Anne Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Anderson of Earle, became the bride of Roland Guy Crisci, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Crisci, 1023 Croton avenue, this city.

Rev. C. V. Crabb officiated at 8 o'clock, amid a setting of bridal white and green. Wrought iron candelabra held cathedral candles while baskets of white gladioli made a beautiful picture before a background of greenery, palms, and fernbells.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original by Joel in Valley Lily white slipper satin combined with imported chantilly lace in Bridal Rose design. The pointed lace bodice was fastened in the center back with diminutive lace buttons. The lace applique to the de collete portrait yoke of tulle in natural scallop design was interspersed with dainty seed pearls. The lace formed a deep yoke on the upper part of the circular skirt and applique in deep irregular points. Fullness of the skirt developed into voluminous folds which extended into the Cathedral train. Her veil was long with finger tip cape and face veil of misty French illusion from a Juliet cap of the complimentary lace held at the back by and heirloom jewel of wheat spray.

The bride's bouquet was composed of stephanotis, valley lilies, and rosebuds, centered with an orchid. A shower of ribbon fell from the bouquet.

The attendants wore identically designed dresses of apple green filmy chiffon shadowed by silblant taffeta. The portrait neck of the shirred basque bodice was draped with a cowl bertha falling over the shoulders to form brief sleeves.

The gathered skirts fell in graceful folds to the floor. Grecian headbands developed of miniature laurel leaves of the chiffon complemented the dresses in color.

They carried pink flower fans, fashioned of daisies and rosebuds.

Miss Jean Anderson was her sister's maid-of-honor, and Mrs. William DeCarbo, of New Castle, sister of the groom, served as best man.

Other groomsmen were: Talbot S. Mathes, Jr., of Memphis, Tenn.; Jerry Crangi, New Castle; Richard Wood, Earle, Ark.; and George Holmes of Augusta, Ga.

Mrs. A. Watson, organist of the church, played traditional bridal recessional music and accompanied Miss Bruce O'Quinn, mezzo-soprano soloist as she sang: "I Love Thee" by Greig; "Dedication" by Schumann; "Nuz Queen" by Brahms and "Where'er You Walk" by Handel.

A lovely reception at the home and in the garden of the bride's parents followed, attended by a host of friends from the Tri-States.

Among guests were Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Crisci, Mr. Frank V. Crisci, brother of the groom, Weirton, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. William F. DeCarbo, New Castle, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Crangi, New Castle, and Mrs. Melvina Crisci of Cincinnati.

The bride attended the University of Mississippi at Oxford and received her bachelor of Music degree at Westminster Choir college, Princeton, N. J., and has recently served as Minister of Education and Director of Religious Education at the First Presbyterian church of Portsmouth, Va. Mr. Crisci received his Master of Music Degree at Westminster Choir college and served three years in the Army Air Force in the European Theatre. The young couple will make their home in Richmond, Va., where Mr. Crisci will be Minister of Music in the Ginter Park Methodist church.

MARY JO KAUFMAN WEDS DALE MCCLAIN

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dale McClain are honeymooning in Canada following their marriage Saturday, July 15.

Mrs. McClain, the former Mary Jo Kaufman, is the daughter of Mrs. W. E. Case of 309 Court street, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McClain of Enon Valley, Pa.

Ferns and lovely white summer flowers decorated the fireplace of the bride's home for the ceremony. The young couple exchanged wedding vows at 7:30 o'clock, with Rev. Willard K. George of the Bethel United Presbyterian church officiating at the double ring service.

Preceding the ceremony traditional nuptial music was heard, with the "Lord's Prayer" played during the exchange of vows. Given in marriage by her uncle, Leslie L. McCoy, of Grove City, the attractive bride appeared wearing a fashionable creation of navy blue marquisette over taffeta.

Pretty features were its basque waist and full skirt. A jeweled clip and earrings were gifts of the groom. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's breath, with white satin streamers.

Sister of the groom, Mrs. Thomas West, of Fombelle, as matron of honor, was attired in a yellow sheer silk dress. A colonial bouquet of tea roses and baby mums complimented the ensemble.

Paul W. McCloy of Grove City, uncle of the bride, served the groom as best man.

A wedding reception for 40 guests was held at the bride's home following the ceremony. The table was centered with a three-tiered cake and appointed in traditional bridal white.

The young couple will reside at

R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, upon their return from Canada. The bride is a graduate of the local senior high school. The groom, a graduate of the North Beaver consolidated high school, is associated in business with his father.

Britain Not Sending Troops

There are strong indications today that Great Britain has decided against sending ground troops to South Korea despite a growing feeling in the United States that at least a token force should be dispatched to the bloody battlefield.

The decision, if it actually has been taken, was reached by Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet after profound consideration of all aspects.

The British government has no desire to court criticism or dissatisfaction in the United States or in the United Nations.

Therefore all measures having to do with the Korean conflict have been subjected to closest scrutiny and consideration.

It is undoubtedly true that Britain is heavily committed in the Far East already.

Lines Spread Thin
Her lines are spread thin because there are vast areas of trouble in the Asiatic world. A Whitehall spokesman explained that any shifting of Far Eastern troops to Korea would imperil local situations.

Britain's major preoccupation is in Malaya, where the Communist movement is strong.

For almost three years, 70,000 British land troops have been on the job in Malaya, safeguarding that great peninsula which supplies the world with one-third of all its natural rubber and one-half its tin—both of enormous military as well as peacetime value.

The British estimate that they are spending a hundred thousand dollars a day to maintain the Malaya force and pay for its operations. They have the equivalent of four full divisions or more on combat status and the British treasury severely feels this drain.

In addition, there is Hong Kong. Troops on battle duty there now total 38,000 men. Anti-aircraft protection has been stepped up to a degree comparable to London at the height of the Nazi blitzes and the British are convinced that any hostile Communist action there would meet with a hot reception indeed.

Sent Fleet
So far as Korea itself is concerned, Britain dispatched her Far Eastern fleet to Korean waters immediately after President Truman decided upon the first American air and naval action against the Communist invaders.

This is a sizeable force. It has been in action along with United States units in bombarding enemy shore positions and troop concentrations and while no naval clashes themselves have been reported, the presence of strong Anglo-American detachments doubtless have served to discourage whatever naval force the North Koreans may have.

Prime Minister Attlee is expected to explain the situation in detail later in the week.

Britain is not alone, of course, in being handicapped with regard to the Korean War.

France has half a million men devoted to the Civil War in Indo-China and the cost of maintaining this military establishment forms a major part of the French budget.

Holland likewise has heavy commitments in the Dutch East Indies. The argument that each of these three nations can put forward is that in the over-all picture, their defense of Asiatic areas is fully as important as quelling aggression in Korea.

They can point out that a weakening of forces in any area would be like pulling a plug from a dike, enabling large and well-equipped Communist hordes to sweep into vital regions and put an end to any hope that the Korean War itself can be localized.

It does not seem likely that the United States will put any pressure to bear on Great Britain, and the United Nations undoubtedly will take Britain at her word when she says she is sending "all possible help to Korea."

This may include dispatch of troops from Australia. The dominion's premier, Robert G. Menzies, has been in London talking with British defense chiefs. He is known to be anxious to do whatever can be done to safeguard the Far East.

But Tommy Atkins, it appears at the present, is too busy elsewhere.

They Say

BELGRADE — Milovan Djilas, Yugoslav propaganda chief — "Yugoslavia has no secret or public obligation or agreements with any foreign government or political group."

WASHINGTON — Sen. Maybank (D, S. C.) — "I hope the business people in the nation will not take advantage of the death of our boys in the Orient to make a lot of money."

WASHINGTON — Democratic members of the Senate loyalty investigating committee reporting on the charges of Sen. McCarthy (R, Wis.) — "He had no facts to support his wild and baseless charges, and lived in mortal fear that this situation would be exposed."

WASHINGTON — Sen. McCarthy — "The most loyal stooges of the Kremlin could not have done a better job of giving a clean bill of health to Stalin's fifth column in this country."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

Handwriting requires considerable development and co-ordination of the small muscles of the hand and eye. Most children therefore are not ready to write even with crayon or pencil before the sixth year, with pen and ink not before the tenth year.

A parent or teacher of the child of six may test the youngster's readiness to begin to write by having him copy a diamond or square with a pencil. But if your child under six should, without your asking him to do so, print letters or words just for fun, observe whether he prints properly from left to right. Should he reverse directions, you ought to guide him constantly when he insists on printing.

Right Hand
If he uses his left hand for throwing and handling things, don't interfere with his handedness. If, however, he often uses his right hand at doing various things, a quiet suggestion that he use this hand with a pencil or crayon might be wise. By the time a child is six his hand preference is usually well established. In case he chooses to write with the left hand, his teacher hardly would ask him to shift to the right hand without the advice of a psychologist.

In the modern school the child first learns manuscript writing. It is a modified form of printing. He can learn it more easily than cursive writing because of its simple structure of straight lines. In case his handwriting is poor, manuscript writing is especially good for the child with poor muscular control and can be learned with less fatigue and nervous tension.

Manuscript Form
Usually the shift to cursive writing is at about the end of the second grade, though the manuscript form may well be used for an indefinite time for making graphs, maps, charts and the like. Then there are some children of eight or older who are miserable writers, who are able to write much more neatly and legibly if they use manuscript or invent a kind of cross between manuscript and cursive writing suited to their wishes. Our youngest son did so and still, at the age of 28, writes (very legibly) after this fashion:

We should encourage the child early in his learning of cursive writing to write a's and c's and i's, m's and n's, u's and w's distinctly lest he be handicapped in written spelling lessons.

Average Pupil
Although the typewriter is coming more and more into use, it won't soon be substituted by the average pupil for handwriting. Neat, legible handwriting is a very essential skill every child needs to master pretty well.

A patient, sympathetic parent who can win the co-operation of a child eight, 12 or 16 who writes an ugly illegible hand, can easily help this child improve his handwriting by inducing him to practice at slow, careful copying from a model specimen for a few minutes daily.

GOLFER'S WIFE

I watch for him at eve to see
If up or down his chin will be.
For if at golf he's had success
I know I'll get that hat or dress.
But if a poor game he has had
The time to ask for things is bad.

If one he knows that he can trim
Has better played and beaten him.
Although by just a single hole,
Then his will be a tortured soul.
And if too many putts he took
He will not like the meal I cook.

But when he comes with eager haste
To put his arm about my waist
And give to me an old-time kiss,
That is the chance I mustn't miss!
The things I want I'll surely get.
My golfing man has won a bet.

Bible Thought

Whoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law; for sin is the transgression of the law. And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin. Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not; whosoever sinneth hath not seen him neither know him.—1 John 3:4, 5, 6.

HIGHWAY COSTS
NEW YORK — (INS) — States allowing the heaviest truck loads on their highways will spend nearly ten times as much per mile for new state road construction this year as those with stricter load limits, it was revealed by a nationwide survey of the American Road Builders Association. The eight states allowing loads of 22,400 pounds or more per axle will average expenditures of $223,000 per mile for highway construction this year, according to the association figures, while new road costs in the 40 states with stricter load limits will average slightly more than $25,000 per mile.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

Every once in awhile we find something that someone wrote that just seems to fill the bill . . . and it is pleasing to have our friends and readers do the same . . . it's through this line of thinking that we give you the following. . . Blair Alverson read a small article we liked it and thought you would like it too. The author is unknown but you will like the words.

THE OYSTER AND THE EAGLE . . .

When God made the oyster, He guaranteed him absolute economic and social security. He built the oyster a house, a shell, to protect him from his enemies. When hungry, the oyster simply opens up his shell and the food rushes in.

But when God made the eagle, He said, "The blue sky is the limit. Go build your own house," and the eagle went out and built his house on the highest mountain crag, where storms threaten him every day. For food he flies through miles of rain and snow and wind.

The eagle, and not the oyster, is the emblem of America.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Momentous Decisions Near

WASHINGTON, July 17.—This week will see the decisions taken here in Washington essential to winning back South Korea from the Communists. But they will go further than that.

They will at least be a start toward providing the minimum of strength necessary to match the commitments the United States has made in so many corners of the globe. That has been, of course, the source of a deadly peril of recent months.

A kind of inverse ration has seemed to prevail. The more commitments that were made, the less strength we had. It was an invitation to Communist adventure everywhere.

Requests To Be Made
The steps to be taken will be decided both by those who demand all-out mobilization and by the politics-as-usual wing of the Congress. They include the following:

A request to Congress for billions of dollars (present discussions put it at between four and five) for prosecution of the Korean armed forces, building up American armed forces generally and speeding up the arming of North Atlantic Pact nations.

Limited middle-ground authority to allocate steel and a few other scarce metals and get production of radar equipment and military vehicles, thereby supplanting some television and automobile manufacture.

Call Some Guard Units
The calling up of some national guard units and reservists. Detailed plans for this may not, however, be sufficiently advanced to include it in the statement to be sent to Congress.

Along with the requests will go something that in a sense is almost as important. According to present intentions, the president will give what one of his close associates describes as "a sort of state of the union message."

This is an urgent necessity, as is shown by every indicator of opinion. The first reaction to the president's bold move in ordering force against the North Korean invasion and in invoking the sanction of the United Nations was unquestionably good. It cut across most political and partisan considerations.

Reverses Factor
But the almost unbroken chain of reverses since then has dissipated the original confident response. People are more and more troubled and apprehensive. They are asking certain questions, and above all:

Why are the North Koreans fighting so hard and so skillfully and why has the South Korean resistance been so ineffectual? Is the difference due entirely to the superior weapons of the South? What has happened in view of the seeming deficiencies all down the line, to the $50,000,000,000 to $60,000,000,000 spent in the past four years on national defense? Answers to the last one should not be difficult to provide. It gets down to the extraordinary cost of today's complicated weapons and the far-flung extent of American commitments.

Entitled to Statement
Certainly the American people are entitled to a frank and complete statement of where we are and how we got there and where we mean to go from here. In any survey of the tragic deficiencies of the past year or more almost none ranks higher than the deficiency of information.

Consider the record since last

The Home Front Story

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 19.—The battle of Korea is being objectively reported, but not so the battle of Washington Politics. Head-hunting and the indulgence of "I told you so's" often obscure the factual skeleton of the war effort here. Some bare bones of the home-front story are:

Planned It That Way: In over-simplified but not untrue language, the State Department used Korea as "marked money" which was planned to determine if Stalin would pick it up. One government official explains that the defense of South Korea was intended to rest upon the American guarantee of integrity rather than on the native army. This is one big reason why the South Koreans were not alerted to come to the rescue in strength. The Administration hoped to establish, and still does, the principle of Pax Americana by fiat rather than by force.

But Not This Way: Informal censorship at the Pentagon robbed the American Public of an early appraisal of the South Korean collapse. Fully 30 Washington writers, including this one, knew the big story of sabotage and fifth column work but were requested not to write it. Finally one columnist, not this one, disregarded the request and wrote the story anyhow.

In summary, the South Koreans might well have halted the early tank assaults by road-blocks and blown-up bridges, but they were betrayed from within and from behind the lines. The irony of it is that all of President Rhee's police state methods did not prevent the whole sale betrayal. At this writing, 42 American soldiers are reported killed in action but 2,500 saboteurs have been executed and many are presumably still on the loose. These figures tell a story that should have been written three weeks ago.

The Peninsula Campaign: Gen. MacArthur is now getting "everything" he asks for, according to a qualified Pentagon source, but is committed to keep on losing defense battles in order to prepare for the grand counter-attack from his "beachhead." As this Pentagon spokesman puts it, MacArthur "must draw the bow before he can shoot his arrow." But the counter-attack, when and if launched, will sweep the Korean peninsula with mobile armor in the same sort of campaign that Montgomery used to sweep Rommel from the African Desert.

The Pentagon Campaign: Favorite target of the head-hunters is Defense Secretary Johnson whose previously-entrenched enemies blame him for the Korean fiasco. But the plain fact is that the decision to defend Korea was literally made overnight, the night of June 25th, and was a reversal of Secretary Acheson's policy, not Johnson's. The Defense Secretary has been concentrating on (A) unification, (B) combat efficiency and (C) preparation for World War III. In the first two categories, at least, he has done far better than his critics allow.

Imagine, if it's not too painful, what would have happened if the Korean crisis had arrived last year. Then the Navy was at war with the Air Force. Then the admirals and the flying captains were suffling on the flight deck. Then the Joint Chiefs of Staff were snooting each other and tattling to outsiders.

Although Johnson's head-cracking methods were tough, he has accomplished teamwork at the top level. Five months now the Chiefs of Staff have worked under Gen. Bradley's chairmanship without ruckus among themselves or reversal by the Secretary. Any review of Johnson's reorganization will show that he has robbed the rear-echelon areas and built up the front-line defenses. These reforms, though still mostly on paper, will inevitably improve the combat status of the services as they build up this summer.

Ships Are Down: Under Johnson's system we are better prepared to fight World War III than to fight the Korean war. What he said about retreating in the event of a 4 o'clock attack still goes—in fact, it goes double. I can report without reservation that there will be no more "Koreas" if Johnson's advice prevails at the White House. The next time American forces are rushed to put out a sizable fire, they will carry atomic extinguishers and will use them on the firebug as well as the fire. This will require the very planes, vessels and weapons which are useless in a police action but which could be decisive in a world war. Stalin seems to respect the American striking power more than Johnson's critics do, which is a lucky thing for the rest of us.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Did you, by chance, see that picture of "Butch," the four-year-old kid who smokes three cigars a day?

He looks very proud of himself as all children do when they think are imitating their elders.

This picture was distributed nationally and the caption under it told a most unusual story.

"Butch" can't light those three cigars he smokes," it said, "so his grandfather does it for him."

But Grandpappy works during the day, so when "Butch" gets a yen for a cigar during working hours, the cop on the beat lights it for him.

Grandma won't do the lighting, according to the caption. "Butch" would smoke to many, she said, because he's afraid of her.

But he is afraid of the cop, so he stays within the three cigars a day, which, apparently, his family thinks is all right for a four-year-old boy.

The picture was unquestionably taken with the consent of the kid's parents.

So here we have the cute situation of a policeman, a father and mother, grandfather and grandmother, all endorsing the habit and encouraging it.

This is not an article on the merits or demerits of smoking.

I am no authority on the subject—and neither, it seems are the doctors.

I have received a dozen different answers.

The most reliable answer I have been able to get was "I don't know."

The second best was "It may not do you any harm, it certainly won't do you any good."

I do know that when I stopped smoking, it was awful for a while. Then I got used to not smoking and didn't miss it at all.

But eventually I got tired of saying "No" and giving explanations every time somebody offered me a cigarette. So I started in again and now it is once again a habit.

It's the same with drinking. I can take it or leave it and, frankly, I prefer to leave it. Drinking just simply doesn't give me a lift. It makes me dopy and sleepy.

But every time you go to somebody's house, or to dinner with somebody, it's "What will you have?"

If you say "Nothing, thank you," you are considered a sissy and people look at you as if you are queer.

So most people haven't the courage to say "No."

But I hate to see a four-year-old kid smoking cigars or a pipe or cigarettes. I would also hate to see a four-year-old kid pictured with a highball in his hand.

Habits, particularly bad ones, stain soon enough with most of us. But if they are fostered, encouraged and exploited in kids and the kids turn out bad—then that's called "juvenile delinquency."

Poor "Butch!"

DOG ON IT

Somehow or other, people seem to worry more about dog bites in the summer time.

Although we hope that we will not get a bite, it might be well to know what to do, "just in case."

DO NOT KILL THE DOG. That is the most important rule. If possible, give the dog to a veterinarian. If not, keep it yourself and watch it carefully.

Report the bite to the local representative of the State Health Department.

Take good care of the dog and watch for any peculiar actions or signs. Watch for paralysis or undue sleepiness or difficulty in drinking.

Judge Crater's Disappearance

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Capt. John J. Cronin, head of the New York Bureau of Missing Persons, is steeling himself to deal with a spate of letters, volunteer information and new clues on Judge Joseph Force Crater, who disappeared into thin air in this city just twenty years ago this summer.

"Everybody and his brother are doing an anniversary piece for some magazine or newspaper on the Judge's disappearance," Capt. Cronin said when I talked with him the other day.

Get Many Letters
"And everytime anything is printed about the Judge, the bureau gets a handful of letters, usually from crack-pots, who think they have just seen the Judge in Timbuktu or Coney Island. Or maybe they have just thought up a new theory about his disappearance," added the captain, who for my money—is a combination of Nick Carter, the thin man, the fat man, Ellery Queen, Boston Blackie, and Sherlock Holmes.

The police file on the Judge, who has become part of authentic American folklore and whose name now evokes on the radio the same kind of yak-yacking as the mention of Brooklyn, is still open.

Every possible clue has been followed and will continue to be followed, the captain said. In the past twenty years, people have reported seeing the missing Judge disguised as a sheep-herder in Nevada, a croupier in Casablanca, a loafer on the Riviera, a boatman on the Yangtze and a laborer in Patagonia.

"Has Been Seen There"
"You name the place," Capt. Cronin offered, "and the Judge has been seen there."

The captain believes that the Judge's disappearance has become for this generation what little Charlie Ross's kidnapping was for an earlier generation of Americans: an altogether intriguing and baffling mystery so far defying solution.

Mr. Crater, a big, handsome man appointed to the New York Supreme Court by Gov. Franklin Delano Roosevelt in April, 1930, was last seen at 9:15 p.m., August 6, 1930, as he stepped into a taxicab outside a popular restaurant on West 45th Street.

It is almost impossible for anyone to disappear, vanish, fade into the atmosphere, and no one knows that better than Capt. Cronin, who turns up innumerable missing men, women and children during any single working year.

Doubly Hard To Vanish
And it is doubly hard for a man of Judge Crater's size, appearance and general prominence to vanish. But vanish he did, after dining with a lawyer, friend and a pretty show girl who waded him into the taxicab that took him no one knows where.

One astounding fact that latter hindered police, after they were called into the case almost three weeks after the Judge's disappearance, was the complete absence of a set of the Judge's fingerprints. None was on file anywhere.

Only after his disappearance did it come to light that his honor was involved in one or two matters that might have ruined his judicial career.

Before Mr. Crater's appointment on the bench, for instance, he had served as a receiver for a bankrupt Turkish bath on the lower East Side. Mr. Carter had sold the property for a mere $416.90 to a group with political connections that later sold it to the city for $2,850,000. There were even a lady or two in the case, in addition to the Judge's faithful wife.

Mysterious Appearance
And then there was the mysterious appearance of $6,690 in cash, checks, stocks, bonds and insurance policies in the Crater apartment months after the initial police searches had turned up no such items.

Eventually, after seven years the courts at Mrs. Crater's request declared the Judge legally dead. She collected some insurance, but not double indemnity. And later she remarried.

For twenty years people have wondered whether the Judge disappeared of his own volition; whether he committed suicide and in some miraculous way disposed of his own body; whether he disappeared at the persuasion or compulsion of others, or whether he was murdered.

There are even those who are convinced that the Judge rests in a barrel of concrete on the bottom of the East River, a legendary end of enemies in the gangster era.

Capt. Cronin, like every police officer who worked on the case originally, believes Judge Crater's disappearance was voluntary. Why, is another matter.

WATCH FOR THE JAPANESE BEETLES

Japanese Beetles are present in Lawrence County and are causing damage in some sections. They are feeding on grapevines and ornamentals, especially on roses. Beetles may feed on a wide variety of plants, and do much damage.

Japanese beetles are about 3/8 of an inch long, greenish bronze in color. Each beetle has six white dots on each side below the wings. The grubs or larvae feed on grass roots, and may cause extensive damage to lawns.

Japanese beetles are rather difficult to control. The most effective poison is DDT, which may be used as a dust or spray. A 5 per cent DDT dust can be used, or 3 tablespoons of a 50 per cent wettable DDT powder per gallon of water can be applied as a spray. Be certain to cover the plants completely.

Two Parties In State Plan Platform Making Sessions

By JOHN PAGET
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, July 19.—The Republican and Democratic platform committees today scheduled meetings to nail down the planks on which their major candidates will campaign for election next fall.

Democrats will meet July 21 at Philadelphia while Republicans will convene at Pittsburgh September 9.

Democratic congressional and legislative candidates will meet at the State Capitol July 29.

Peters To Head Committee
State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, a top strategist in the Duff campaign, announced the appointment of Montgomery county chairman Fred Peters to head the GOP platform committee and selected Philadelphia industrialist Philip T. Sharples to captain the party's finance committee for the 1950 fall campaign.

Generally, the platforms of both parties will embrace legislation covering veterans, labor, agriculture and social improvements.

The stand of each group on taxes will be worked out in committee inasmuch as candidates on both sides of the fence have hinted more money will have to be raised in the 1951-53 biennium than was channeled into commonwealth coffers during the present fiscal period.

Peters performed a similar chore for Republicans in 1946 while Sharples succeeds former State Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews of Philadelphia.

Matthews, who helped raise the money for James H. Duff's successful gubernatorial campaign in 1946, was named State Commerce Secretary but quit the cabinet January 1, 1949, following a dispute with the chief executive over fiscal matters.

Taylor's selection of Sharples was in line with the statement by Duff, candidate for the U. S. Senate, that none of the leaders of the primary election opposition would have a hand in the fall campaign.

Sharples was active in the "new guard" of Philadelphia businessman William Harmon during the 1940 Willkie campaign and in 1946 supported former State Highway Secretary John U. Shroyer's unsuccessful gubernatorial fight with the regular GOP organization.

Democratic State Chairman Maurice D. Splain, Jr., earlier announced the selection of House Minority Leader Hiram G. Andrews, of Johnstown, as chairman of the platform group and the appointment of Philadelphia financier Albert M. Greenfield to direct the finance committee.

Democrats have set up a 14-member committee while Taylor plans a similar Republican group of about 20 members.

The final makeup of the committee, Taylor said, will be announced following another conference with Duff and his gubernatorial running mate, former Superior Court Judge John S. Fine, of Nanticoke.

Statewide candidates of both parties will be on hand for the platform drafting.

identify the troops engaged in this advance other than to designate them as "United Nations" forces. But the combined land, sea and carrier plane Allied onslaught was in progress some 40 miles north of the U. S. First Cavalry Division's beachhead at Pohang.

(In Washington, the Navy announced that its carrier task force off eastern Korea delivered "two full strikes" using 50 carrier planes in each attack, in a series of smashing new blows at the big Wonsan oil refinery in Communist North Korea.

(The Navy said that the huge carrier plane attacks kindled flames at Wonsan that could be seen 60 miles away. The announcement stated that 32 Communist planes were definitely destroyed by Navy and Air Force flyers and that eight others were destroyed or seriously damaged.)

Russian-Made Planes Downed
Three and probably four of the destroyed Russian-made Yak planes were shot down Wednesday in spectacular dogfights with American aircraft over the Taejon sector where three U. S. regiments were holding firm under an artillery-supported Communist ground attack.

The important rail-industrial city of Taejon itself was under a two-hour Communist shelling Wednesday morning, according to a U. S. Army Field Headquarters officer. The officer admitted that a tank-led Communist column deeply outflanked Taejon's intrepid defenders by capturing Iri, 40 miles to the southwest.

In his latest communique, Gen. MacArthur said, however, that enemy action around Taejon "consisted of minor infiltrations and movements beyond contact of our forces." The supreme commander declared American and South Korean troops were consolidating their defense positions on the Taejon front.

In the center of the Korea War theater, MacArthur said, "the greatest activity developed" in the Chungju-Hamchang-Sangju and the Yongju-Andong corridors where "South Korean troops were holding firm."

However, the supreme commander acknowledged that the hub of Yechon "after changing hands several times is now reported held by the enemy." Yechon lies only 39 airline miles north-northeast of the big junction of Kumchon on running northwest from Pusan to the double-tracked trunk railroad Taejon.

From the new Beachhead at Pohang, 25 miles south of Yongdok and 70 miles north of Pusan, the amphibiously landed American troops expanded their perimeter to a depth of some ten miles inland from the landing points.

Rear Adm. John H. Doyle, in command of the invasion fleet, hurried the operation because of a threatening typhoon. With the windstorm hovering nearby, Doyle wanted to get his ships away as soon as possible.

Waiting on the beach was Capt. Vincent Robinson of Arlington, Mass., who reconnoitered the beach a week before the landing.

Robinson, operating from a nearby airfield, said:

"This is the damndest piece of real estate I ever saw."

Becomes Busting Port
The harbor, lonely and neglected Monday night, suddenly became a bustling port during the first light of dawn Tuesday as cavalrymen entered waves of landing assault boats.

Everything went so well that not even a sprained ankle was reported.

Adm. Doyle said:

"The efficiency with which this landing has been carried out has made a warm glow inside of me."

South Korean Army units confined all resident of Pohang to their homes to permit the Americans to move more freely. The people of Pohang peered curiously from second story windows as the cavalrymen stepped on the double through the town.

The main body of the division swiftly came ashore after a reconnoitering party notified Doyle that no opposition was in sight.

Exciting new TONI discovery improves home waves—5 ways!

styles by Don Rita

With new wonder neutralizer—PERMAFIX—
Toni gives amazing results—finer results than scientists ever believed possible!

1 Gives The Most Natural-looking Wave
science has ever achieved. The neutralizer, you know, makes the wave permanent. And Toni's amazing discovery, Permafix, created after two years of intensive research, neutralizes your permanent faster, more completely, more effectively. That means you get a longer-lasting wave that looks more natural, feels far softer, behaves like naturally curly hair.

2 Conditions The Wave.
Toni's revolutionary new neutralizer, Permafix, gives results like a glorious creme rinse. Permafix, in combination with Toni's exclusive Creme Waving Lotion, leaves your hair satin soft... smoother, easier to set—with the pliant "spring" that lasts month after month.

3 Leaves No Frizzy, Brittle Ends. You will see for yourself how hair waved with new Toni is in the same wonderful condition as natural, healthy hair. See those soft, silky-soft ends! Even children's fine hair, and bleached or tinted hair, is left softly lustrous. There is no frizz with a Toni. Your hair looks better—your wave is lovelier.

4 Permanent Takes Better, Lasts Longer. Women who have had ten Toni's and were happy with every one find the new improved Toni with Permafix is the best of all. They say their waves take better, last even longer than before. So take a tip from these enthusiastic Toni users. Make your next wave a Toni with Permafix. You'll agree it's the loveliest, longest-lasting wave you've ever had.

5 Leaves Hair Far Easier To Manage. "New Toni with Permafix is wonderful!" says the Toni Twin. "Now my permanent takes no more care than naturally curly hair. It's easier to comb, easier to set and an 'angel' to manage." Barbara Stirling, the twin at the right (above), has the Toni. Remember, of all home permanents, Toni alone has Permafix.

Only TONI home permanent has PERMAFIX!

Cascade Playground Busy Spot These Days

Cascade Park playground is a very busy place these days, as here the children have a beauty spot in which to play volleyball and the older children, Miss Sargent, supervisor, states that adults as well as children, enjoy the large swings on this lovely shady recreation spot.

Today as we visited the playground, about 50 brownies marched to a shady spot on the hillside, where they enjoyed their rest period.

Many out-of-town visitors, this week, some from Pittsburgh, have remarked about the advantages and scenic beauty at this park.

Gen. Walker Able Leader

WASHINGTON, July 18—(INS)—Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of U. S. Forces in Korea, was described by his fellow officers today as a "well-disguised ghost" of the late Gen. George S. Patton.

Walker, a native of Belton, Tex., was the leader of the famed "ghost armored corps" in Patton's Third Army during the drive into Nazi Germany in World War II. Walker doesn't resemble the two-gunned, hard-fisted Patton in appearance. He is short, chunky, quiet spoken and differential.

But when he goes into action, Walker is the hard-punching aggressive Patton all over again and under the stress of battle conditions can let loose a stream of army profanity that would do credit to Patton himself.

A 1912 graduate of West Point Military Academy, Walker "came of age" in the Army since 1943 when his 20th Armored Corps was assigned to Patton's Army.

This unit became famous as the "ghost corps" in its drive from the Normandy Beachhead across France and Germany into Austria. Walker was twice cited for gallantry during the drive.

He was awarded the distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in establishing a bridgehead over the Seine in the face of heavy fire and won the Silver Star for gallantry in commanding his corps at the front.

Following the war, Walker commanded the Fifth Army for two years, and took command of the Eighth Army in Japan in 1948.

Blind Golfers Start Tourney

AUGUSTA, Me., July 19.—(INS)—Fourteen plucky blind golfers tee off today at the Augusta Country club in a 36-hole Medal Play Tourney for the American Blind Golf Title.

The entrants, many of whom lost their sight in World War II, are led by Charles Boswell, of Birmingham, Ala., who won the 1949 competition at Norristown, Pa., with a 36-hole medal score of 213.

Maine's favorite, Bill Gilman, of Portland, runner-up in 1949 with a 230, also is on hand. In practice rounds, Peter Bell, of Detroit, toured the 18-hole Augusta course in 97 strokes. The winner this year is expected to card a score of slightly over 200. The tourney concludes tomorrow.

AGE HAS PRIVILEGES

SOMERVILLE, Tenn. — Uncle Dave, 79-year-old Negro farmer, says he doesn't farm his three acres of land. His wife does. "She's five years younger than me," he explained.

PRESIDENT ASKS FOR TEN BILLIONS AND WAR POWERS

make every effort to finance the greatest possible amount of needed expenditures by taxation." He declared that a tax increase is the greatest weapon against inflation.

Restrain Credit Expansion
The President said that "as a further important safeguard against inflation, we shall need to restrain credit expansion." He asked Congress to authorize control of consumer credit and credit used for commodity speculation.

Mr. Truman pointed out that he already has taken action in the housing field for application of credit restraints. The President declared that the world situation is such that Congress should remove all statutory limits on the size of U. S. armed forces.

The President declared that, in addition to vastly strengthening American armed forces, that he will ask Congress for additional billions to increase and speed up military aid to the other free nations.

Mr. Truman told congress: "The hard facts of the present situation require relentless determination and firm action."

Authorities Asked
To bolster the nation's economy, to channel critical materials into the making of weapons, and to prevent runaway inflation, the president asked congress for these authorities:

1. To establish mandatory priorities and to allocate materials as necessary to promote the national security. To limit the use of critical materials for non-essential purposes. To prevent inventory hoarding and to requisition supplies and materials needed for the national defense, particularly excessive and unnecessary inventories.

2. Executive controls of consumer credit and credit used for commodity speculation.

3. Authority to accelerate and increase the production of essential materials, products and services through production loan guarantees and loans to increase production.

No Tax Increase Now

The president called for no increase in taxes now—but he made it crystal clear that there must be a heavy increase in federal revenues from tax sources within a comparatively short time.

On the question of increased taxes, the president said: "We should increase federal revenues more sharply than I have previously recommended, in order to reduce the inflationary effect of the government deficit."

Mr. Truman added: "There are two fundamental principles which must guide us in framing measures to obtain these additional revenues."

Finance By Taxation

"1. We must make every effort to finance the greatest possible amount of needed expenditures by taxation. The increase of taxes is our basic weapon in offsetting the inflationary pressures exerted by enlarged government expenditures. Heavier taxes will make general controls less necessary."

"2. We must provide for a balanced system of taxation which makes a fair distribution of the tax burden among the different groups of individuals and business concerns in the nation. A balanced tax program should also have as the major aim the elimination of profiteering."

The president said that a study will be made immediately on the new revenue requirements, and:

Shall Present Program

"At an appropriate time . . . I shall present to the congress a program . . . to assure the financing of our needs in a manner which will be fair to all our citizens, which will help prevent inflation, and which will maintain the fiscal position of the nation in the soundest possible condition."

Mr. Truman called on the country to stop hoarding, bring an abrupt halt to profiteering, and to use restraints in their daily life.

The president warned: "If a sharp rise in prices should make it necessary, I shall not hesitate to recommend the more drastic measures of price control and rationing."

Mr. Truman said he hoped these two steps would not be necessary, but he put it squarely up to the American people to decide by their actions whether compulsory rationing and price controls will be necessary.

PARIS PARTY

PARIS.—(INS)—Twenty score Russians gathered for a grand soiree in Paris the other evening, but not a single glass of vodka was held in toast to Stalin, not one, Old Czar Nicholas, II, whom Stalin's boys wiped out in the Russian Revolution, received ample toasts, though. The party—out of the ordinary even for Paris' varied fare of nightlife—was staged by members of the "White Russians" colony in the French capital.

Bulk coal is often treated as fragile cargo because customers demand it be delivered in specific sizes and rough handling tends to break up the lumps.

Time Stands Still In Little Village

LONDON.—(INS)—Time has stood still for seventeen years in the tiny village of Telscombe, Sussex county.

Not that anybody in Telscombe minds that progress in the form of shops, movies, saloons, telephones, buses, post offices and police stations, has passed their "quaint" little village by. "Quaint" it means a 40 cent ride in the village taxi or a five-mile walk to the nearest shop not one of Telscombe's thirty-four inhabitants voices a single complaint against Ambrose Gorham, who was responsible for it all.

Squire Gorham owned half the village and other local property as well. He left it in his will to rear-by Brighton Corporation in perpetuity—but with several catches in it. No buildings other than farm buildings were to be built within a quarter-mile of the village church.

No refreshments were to be served other than in the village club, which he had built.

No trees were to be felled, unless they constituted a danger to the community.

Stick To It

Brighton Corporation and the villagers have painstakingly stuck to the bargain. The result is that tourists pour into this most inaccessible of British villages from all over the world, along the one good road from Neveham.

Over a tankard of ale in the village club, Rev. Henry Martyn Harris, 62 and a genial 224-pounds, spoke up for the village. "Everybody wants Telscombe to remain just as the squire loved it." He pointed out that another of the conditions in the squire's will was that the local rector must not be a teetotaler or non-smoker and quipped, "It's a good thing I like a glass of beer, eh?"

BROTHER ROLE

HOLLYWOOD.—(INS)—Rita Hayworth's younger brother, Eduardo Cansino, Jr., who has been trying for a long time to break into pictures, finally is getting his chance. He has been given a role as a Spanish dancer, which actually is what he is, in the bull-fighter story, "Torero," which Robert Stack and Gilbert Roland are making in Mexico.

TRADE TRAINING

CHICAGO.—(INS)—A woman detective in Chicago has seen so many pickpockets in action that now she's an expert at it herself. Frances Nickmann demonstrated her ability at a recent meeting of Illinois policemen. She deftly jostled her victim, another woman detective, flipped open the clasp of her purse, dipped out the coin purse and passed it under a coat over her arm to an accomplice.

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 19.—(INS)—Gene Tierney is ready to believe that she "achieved permanent usefulness" when she recently will her eyes to a New York eye bank so that the blind might see.

The actress said that she learned through Mrs. Aida Breckenridge, national executive director of the eye bank for sight restoration of New York City that there has been a definite rise in applications from prospective donors throughout the country as the result of her decision.

"I offered my eyes when I learned of the great need for corneas from the eyes of the newly dead," Gene explained on the set of "The Matinee Idol."

"If just one more person sees fit to make such a donation as a result of the publicity the eye bank has received through the use of my name and donation, then I will truly feel that I have really accomplished something in my lifetime and that I have achieved permanent usefulness."

Beautiful Eyes
The actress insisted that she had decided to make no statement whatsoever about the provision in her will regarding her eyes, but that she had to confirm the announcement in New York made by the eye bank.

The fact that Gene's eyes are considered the most beautiful in Hollywood enhanced the story value to the bank and there has been a quick response to the needy institution.

Gene said that she first heard of the eye bank through a meeting with Mrs. Breckenridge at her mother's home in New York. Gene was deeply moved by the well-known society matron's stories of the new life brought to so many people by this transplanting of corneas from a person newly dead to blinded eyes belonging to the living.

"I offered my eyes on the spot," said Gene. "Think of it, one out of every 25 people who are blind in this country can be made to see again through the donations of corneas by people who certainly won't have any need for them after death."

The Dunking Scene

On Universal-International's "Katie" set they brought back the "Mood Music" of the old silent picture days to get Ann Blyth into the correct mood for dunking herself into a tank full of water.

As Ann, dressed in a scanty bathing suit, steps gingerly into the water to rehearse the scene, a technician flips the starter switch of a portable phonograph and out comes a brassy rendition of "Asleep in the Deep."

"For Heaven's sake, stop it!" cries Ann. "That's defeatist music. Let's have something more appropriate."

The record is turned over on the other side. This time it plays "Old Man River."

"You're getting me out of the mood in a hurry," chides the actress. "Haven't you got something else?"

Please Professor

This time the clincher is put on the phonograph. The astute voice of a long-forgotten tenor bleats out with a chorus "Just A Cottage Small By A Waterfall."

"That does it," cries Ann, slipping into the water up to her neck. "Let's get this over with before you dig up an old recording of 'By The Waters Of Minnetonka'."

TO EXPAND SCHOOL
HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Motor Federation's high school driver training courses will be expanded statewide to provide instruction for adults, Manager R. B. Maxwell announced today.

Clubs in Harrisburg and Philadelphia have tested the expanded program successfully.

Adult training, Maxwell said, will help overcome inadequate instruction reported by examining authorities to be a major obstacle for drivers license applicants.

Report Prices Paid Nation's Farmers Are Now Higher

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Federal farm officials report today that prices being paid the nation's farmers for their products are about five percent higher than at the start of 1950.

The agriculture department in its monthly outlook attributes the increase to a boom in economic activity.

Officials further report that farm prices remained unchanged from May to June but point out that non-farm business activity is maintaining them.

At the same time, prices paid by farmers including interest, taxes and wage rates continue to edge upward. In mid-June they averaged slightly higher than a year ago.

The officials blame this gain on the recent rise in the cost of living.

In a crop summary for June as compared with June a year ago, the department says that truck crops are up 17 percent; feed grains 13 percent; wool 14 percent and oil bearing crops, nine percent.

Smaller advances have been made by food grains and meat animals.

On the other hand, poultry and eggs have dropped 26 percent, vegetables and other truck crops 24 percent and fruit 12 percent. Minor declines have been registered by tobacco, cotton and dairy products.

The department reports that the housewife is paying more for milk in many areas of the country. A survey shows that retail milk prices increased in 20 areas this month. About 100 areas reported. Average price throughout the country for milk delivered to homes is 19.5 cents a quart.

Prices for bottled milk at the store range from a 14 cents per quart low in Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., to 25 cents in Miami, Fla.

Doubts Atomic Bomb Will Be Used In Korean War

ORONO, Me., July 19.—(INS)—Atomic Energy Commissioner Sumner Pike doubts that the atomic bomb will be used in Korea.

In a talk before the University of Maine atomic energy institute he stressed that he spoke as a "private citizen" and declared:

"I see no target in Korea on which to use such a valuable and costly instrument of warfare."

Pike said it was "unfortunate" that the public mind associates atomic energy with weapons of destruction. He said:

"We must think of it as the outstanding scientific achievement of our century, which can and must be put to man's use and not to destroy him."

Alleged Link In Baseball Gambling Syndicate Found

CULVER CITY, Cal., July 19.—(INS)—Police said today an alleged link in a huge multi-million dollar nationwide baseball booking syndicate was uncovered with the arrest of three men in Culver City.

Officers reported they confiscated ledgers containing records of more than $500,000 in bets, many from points outside of California.

Detective Robert M. Conlon said the confiscated records indicate a tieup with a nationwide betting ring that operates in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Pas-saic, N. J., and possibly in other cities.

Conlon estimated the Culver City operation handled $30,000 a day in telephoned bets on major and Pacific Coast league baseball games.

He said the clientele numbered "lots of prominent people", including some movie and other stars of the entertainment world.

Arrested in the raid on the Culver City establishment were Joseph Harris, 50; Herman Mallard, 39, and Max T. Brown, 47. They were released under $250 bail each.

THE FOUR F'S OF TYPHOID

CURRENTLY, the most common methods of spreading Typhoid are referred to as the four F's—food, fingers, flies and faeces. In 1880, however, little was known about the disease until Eberth discovered the typhoid organism. Since then, research has disclosed the sources of typhoid and the ways it is spread. An interesting case, showing how the disease was spread with fingers, was that of "Typhoid Mary" Mallon, a cook. Wherever she was employed, typhoid broke out. It was found that she was a carrier of billions of typhoid germs! Today in-oculation and improved sanitation have greatly reduced the threat of typhoid.

There may be many ways of spreading disease, but there's only ONE way of treating an illness... and that is the RIGHT way. Our pharmacists know only one way of filling prescriptions... and that is—the RIGHT way!

County Residents Answer Blood Bank's Emergency Appeal

Lawrence county blood bank's appeal for donors was readily answered by the residents of the county Tuesday as persons called for appointments to give blood as soon as they learned of the emergency.

The emergency period is past, thanks to the people of the county, but a steady supply of donors is still needed in order to keep a supply on hand, it is announced.

A great deal of blood is used by the hospitals in the county under ordinary circumstances and a supply must be kept on hand at all times, making it necessary to have new donors daily.

A reserve list for Red Cross workers to call in case of emergency is also needed by the blood bank. This list can be built up by the persons in the county by registering at the Red Cross office on North Beaver street and having their blood typed.

Two Are Killed, Six Injured In Auto Crash

The fatal victims were John J. Heenan, 23, described as driver of one of the cars, and a passenger, Raymond Schock, 23, both of Philadelphia.

Police said Heenan's automobile apparently missed a sharp turn in the road and glanced off a vehicle driven by Roosevelt Barlow, 32, Negro, a Philadelphia fireman.

Most seriously hurt was Schock's brother, Herman, 21. Two other passengers in Heenan's car—Matthew Owen, 16, of Philadelphia, and George Kolban, 22, a sailor at the Philadelphia naval base, were also injured. Heenan had picked up Kolban, a hitchhiker, in Chester, Pa.

Barlow suffered a fractured skull; his wife, Virginia, 40, a broken leg and their son, Raymond, 9, cuts and bruises.

Distance Big Handicap To U.S. Offensive

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Gen. Omar Bradley told the House Armed Services Committee Tuesday that an eventual U. S. "counter-offensive" against the Korean Reds will "take some time" because of the distances involved.

This was reported by Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., in a formal news release after the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff testified before the House group at a closed session on the Korean situation.

In summarizing the briefing given the committee, Vinson reported:

"Gen. Bradley advised the committee that the United States is now fighting a delaying action against greatly superior numbers until sufficient forces can be built up to stop the Red advance. Later, the United States build up will permit a counter-offensive. It was pointed out that this will take some time because United States forces are committed 5,000 miles away."

To Meet Thursday
It was also announced that the committee has asked Defense Secretary Johnson and the joint chiefs of staff to meet with members of the Senate and House armed services committees and the Armed Forces Appropriations Subcommittee for an overall briefing on military developments. The meeting is scheduled Thursday morning in the Pentagon.

Vinson's statement said that Bradley praised all three military services "for an outstanding job" in Korea. The summary said:

"The United States Army units are conducting a very able delaying action with minimum losses considering the nature of the en-agement and the overwhelming numbers opposing them."

Thus far, according to Vinson, no legislation resulting from the Korean situation has been requested but he added that "some legislation is expected in a few days."

Vinson commented: "It was explained that the prime need at the moment is for funds to raise the defense program to a level considerably higher than was proposed in the 1951 budget."

"Admiral Hillenkoetter, director of the central intelligence agency, was also heard at the locked-door session but no report on his testimony was given out."

Traffic Accidents Take Fewer Lives

HARRISBURG—The Bureau of Highway Safety, State Department of Revenue, today reported 12 fewer highway fatalities in Pennsylvania for the first five months of this year than in the same period of 1949.

Exactly 100 traffic deaths were recorded in May 1950, the lowest May total on record since 1928 when compilation of records began, with the exception of the world war year 1945. In the 23 years records have been compiled the average fatality total for May is 132.

The 100 May 1950 fatalities included 66 rural deaths and 34 urban, a decline of four in rural and 13 in urban from May 1949 which had 117 deaths.

Pedestrian fatalities totaled 31 in May 1950 against 45 in May 1949, a decrease of 14, while in the first five months of this year there were 200 pedestrian deaths against 269 in the same period of 1949, a decrease of 69.

The decrease of 14 in pedestrian deaths in May comprised two in rural areas and 12 in urban centers. The 69 decrease in pedestrian deaths in the first five months of this year comprised 45 in rural areas and 24 in urban districts.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"A Perfect Little Lady"

At least an inch was added to the chest measurements of the Oglethorpes every time they heard mention of their daughter Ann as "the perfect little lady." From her earliest years, they had kept her neat, prim and proper, rarely allowing her to play with other children. As she grew older, she was tutored in all the ladylike skills until the rest of the kids became exasperated and were continually saying, "Oh, Ann! She's one of those perfect little ladies." The comments don't bother Ann's parents, but they bothered her. She knew that she was not liked, and she began even to dislike herself.

In the old days, many parents were obsessed with the idea of making little ladies and gentlemen out of their children. However, gradually they began to realize that youngsters were more natural and happy if they refrained from emphasizing the "grown-up" approach.

Trying to live up to the part of being a perfect little lady is also likely to bring about anxiety and fear of parent's disapproval if they fail.

There's plenty of time for girls to grow up and learn to be ladies. So in the early years, it's best to let them be natural and carefree children.

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—U.S. Steel Corp. has announced a program to increase its steelmaking capacity by 1,660,000 ingot tons annually while starting construction of a new plant at Morrisville, Pa.

Irving S. Olds, board chairman, said immediate boosting of capacity will be achieved through expansion and improvement of facilities at Pittsburgh and Chicago.

Olds disclosed that building of the Morrisville plant, which is to have an ingot capacity of 700,000 tons annually will begin in 1951. Land for the Morrisville works, fronting on the Delaware river, has already been acquired by the company. It will be able to handle shipments of iron ore from U.S. Steel's developing properties in Venezuela.

Olds said units of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., the firm's principal steelmaking subsidiary, which are to be enlarged, include the Gary and South Works in the Chicago district, and the Homestead, Edgar Thomson, Clairton, Duquesne and Youngstown, O., works in the Pittsburgh district.

During the armistice celebration of World War I, about 155 tons of paper scraps were thrown into New York streets. It cost $80,000 to clean it up.

Bossio Winner By TKO In 7th

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Hard-hitting Bill Bossio proved he's still the best Pittsburgh bantamweight around last night by scoring a seven-round technical knockout over Herky Kaminsky at nearby Zivic Arena before nearly 2,000 fans.

Referee Ernie Sesto stopped the bout in 1:57 of the seventh after a solid right uppercut followed by a crashing left hook had dazed Kaminsky. Kaminsky, a McKees Rocks, Pa., southpaw, took a severe mauling throughout the fight as Bossio bloodied his nose and banged away repeatedly at his ribs. It was Bossio's twenty-fourth victory in 26 fights and his second over Kaminsky.

Rancher Discovers Rare Fossil Quarry

LARAMIE, Wyo.—(INS)—A Wyoming ranch foreman has discovered what may prove to be one of the most important fossil quarries in the country.

Dave Cook of the Warren Livestock company was riding near the Pole Creek ranch, north of Cheyenne, when he noticed bones protruding from a bank. He notified a geologist at the University of Wyoming.

By digging just below the surface of the ground, geologists found bones deposited in volcanic ash which dated back seven million years.

Bones of the direct ancestor of the modern horse, the genus Pliohippus, first of the one-toed horses, have been uncovered. This animal was one-half the size of the modern horse.

Dr. Paul McGrew, professor of geology, said that bones of the Nannippus, a three-toed horse, were also found.

He said a mastodon bone was lying almost on the surface of the ground. This animal was related to the elephant and had four ivory tusks instead of two. It was about the same size as the modern elephant, but much heavier and with shorter legs.

Eugene Williamson Dies In Accident

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Shelley funeral home, for the late Eugene Williamson of Grove City, who was fatally injured in a mine accident Monday at Boyers.

Young Williamson, who was but 24, was a son of Rev. James Williamson, former pastor of East Brook Methodist church, and Mrs. Viola Williamson. Engaged in operating a drill in the mine of the Pittsburgh Limestone Corporation, Williamson was crushed beneath a fall of limestone, according to officials and Mercer County Coroner.

Examination by doctors showed the young workman had a fractured back and neck.

He was born in Mercer county and spent most of his life in the district. He served for 27 months in the Navy. In addition to his parents, he is survived by his widow, Betty Reeber Williamson, and a brother, Donald Williamson.

The Judge, a $12,000-a-year man.

In The Open

A gangling nondescript pup scurried down the roadway ahead of us, striving desperately to keep up with the station wagon which had ruthlessly deserted him. We had no way of knowing how many miles he had raced in the blistering sun before we drew up behind him. They had probably kicked him roughly to the roadway but those were his "folks" and with dumb pup devotion he was doing his manful best to stay with them.

He kept weaving back and forth across the roadway, making it impossible for us to pass. We trailed along behind for a mile or so, while he punished his paws on the merciless pavement, now and then barking despairingly at the speeding station wagon. He tried running in the softer earth edging the highway, but the weed growth cut down his speed and he was soon back in the center.

Not Much We Could Do

Finally one front paw gave out and he scrambled along at a three-legged gait. The station wagon pulled ahead and was soon out of sight on the curving highway. This seemed to take the heart out of the pup, who made one last gallant burst of speed and then gave up, to cover whimpering in a patch of poison ivy—a bewildered, deserted little dog.

There wasn't much we could do. Our home acres patrolled by a vigilant, possessive collie who definitely needs no assistance. We were in a neighboring state at the time and uncertain as to the local laws concerning stray dogs. It was heartbreaking to watch the little fellow point his nose skyward and cry out his loneliness, scared grief at the tragedy which had befallen him.

In his devoted puppy way he had demonstrated more real character than the heartless folk who had thrown him aside. We left him there by the roadside, possibly to die of heartbreak and hunger, but more probably to become one more of the army of vagrant, unwanted dogs who scrounge a pitiful living as and where they can avoid the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune.

Surely somewhere there was a youngster who would have welcomed that pup with open arms. And how much better would have been the merciful release of a little chloroform, rather than the brutal demonstration of callous indifference displayed on that remote country roadway. Unless he runs into a streak of luck that deserted pup will learn the meaning of "a dog's life" the hard way.

One More Lesson

We learned one more outdoor lesson in an olfactory manner recently. It was a rather funny incident as it turned out, but it didn't seem funny at the time. I had been noticing a peculiar aroma in the vicinity of a chiffonade where I keep my hiking clothes. It finally got so bad that I began wondering if a mouse had somehow gained entry and had later passed on. Came a sunny, airy day and my better half hung out everything to blow, scouring the recesses of the chiffonade and finding no trace of any cause for that offensive smell. However, the odor became more pronounced outdoors and she checked all pockets, finding a bit of crushed foliage in the breast pocket of a shirt I had worn on a recent trip to the high country.

Secret Was Out

One whiff of that foliage and the secret was out. I had plucked some carnation flowers, which smell like a long deceased rat in a wall, and had carelessly stuffed them into my shirt pocket. For several days they had carried on in the depths of the chiffonade, offending me grievously every time I drew near. The moral is obvious—admire the carnation flower and leave it on the stalk.

Occasionally the countryman is rewarded with a bit of colorful pageantry as he treats the quieter highways of a sunny afternoon. Such was our luck while returning from a recent jaunt. We were rolling along at a good clip when we suddenly spied a red headed woodpecker swooping along in all his tri-colored beauty.

Using the top of a telephone pole by the road as a vantage point, he was feeding after the manner of a flycatcher—swooping out to capture a juicy morsel and returning to the pole to plan for his next sortie. We halted and he performed for some time. Then his mate came from a massive elm close by, apparently with urgent orders for he followed dutifully clear across the wide valley bottom.

August 1 School Bus Inspection Set

HARRISBURG—Otto F. Messner, Secretary of Revenue, announced today that plans regarding the enforcement of the new School Bus Law, passed by the 1949 Legislature, have been completed. The inspection of school buses will begin August 1. The new law covers all buses carrying school children. The bus may be taken for examination to any examining point in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Buses that cannot comply, and therefore do not carry stickers, will not be permitted to be used, and the operators thereof will be subject to arrest.

It was also announced that since July 1, a considerable number of school bus operators have been examined by the Pennsylvania State Police. The 1949 Act makes this examination compulsory. The law in addition to a special examination for school bus operators, also provides for medical examination. No one will be permitted to operate school buses in the future without the proper certificate.

Senator Kills Rattlesnake

McMINNVILLE, Tenn., July 19 (INS)—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D) Tenn., left one dead rattlesnake behind today as he continued his work as chief of the Senate's anti-crime probe.

The Senator and Harry Mansfield, a hometown Chattanooga friend, were swimming in Barren Fork river, near McMinnville yesterday when they heard a rattler in the underbrush.

Kefauver went after the snake with a shovel and his friend used a hoe, killed the 32-pound reptile and continued their swim, according to Cowan Oldham, Kefauver's host.

Fans See Sensational Senators Top Niagara 8-3; Increase Lead

George Becka Captures 10th Win; Crowd Of Near 1500 Attends Game; Fans Applaud Fine Fielding Plays

A crowd of nearly 1,500 satisfied fans, filed out of P. J. Flaherty Memorial Field, around 11 o'clock last night, after seeing the sensational young Senators bang Niagara Falls for an 8-3 win, and then watched one of the most magnificent aerial fireworks displays ever staged here.

Young George Becka, the personable Cleveland right-hander, turned in his tenth pitching triumph of the year last night, against three reverses, a masterful seven-hit job, that pulled the first-place Senators a game and a half ahead of the runnerup Oil City Refiners who were edged by Erie again 5-4.

Herb Churchill Goes Tonight

Immediately after the game Manager Chuck Cronin announced that he is sending Herb Churchill, the Gloucester, Mass., right-hander after his 12th win of the year tonight. Churchill has a (11-4) record to date. Acting Manager Walt Chipple of the Falls team was undecided who would do the flinging tonight as the Fallsmen strive to at least garner one win out of the current series. The Senators seek a clean three-game sweep.

Tonight has been designated as "Couples Night" with a couple being admitted for $1.00 or two ladies for 75 cents. Another fine outpouring of fans is looked for tonight (weather permitting).

The Senators as on Monday night, accorded Becka brilliant fielding support in winning, committing two excusable errors that didn't cause any serious damage as events turned out. At bat the Senators clubbed out ten hits, bunting them in the eighth for five runs on five hits.

Homer Thrills Fans

Hank DiJohann's terrific home run clout in the first inning over the center-field fence with mate Ken Yount aboard gave the Niagara team a 2 to 0 lead and electrified the fans. The Senators came right back and scored one run as Gene Bilo greeted young Chico Alvarado, a Puerto Rican hurler with a single, and scored after stealing second, and going to third on Ackerman's tap to the pitcher; when DePillo lifted a long fly to left field.

In the top of the fifth Niagara again tallied, as the result of two errors, Alvarado was safe at first and advanced to second on Ackerman's fielded his hit to short well, but threw into the stands. Alvarado took third as Dondoro let a roller get through him and scored as Chepkaukas singled to left. Becka put the brakes on in the final four chapters, allowing only two hits and walking but two.

Bilo Steals Four Bases

Gene Bilo the Ellwood City speedster ran his base-stealing mark to 53 last night with four thefts, that had the crowd in an uproar as the youngster sped around the base paths on pitcher Alvarado and catcher Yearick. Bilo needs but 14 more to tie, and 15 more to set an all-time Mid-Atlantic league base-stealing record.

Al Mouton played a bangup game at third last night, accepting four chances faultlessly, and pulling a sensational slide in the sixth inning with men on first and second to nail, Acting Manager Chipple at third, retiring the side. His back-hand stop and throw out of Chepkaukas in the seventh drew a great round of applause.

Senators Unleash Attack

The Senators knotted the count in the last of the fifth, scoring two runs as the result of singles by pitcher Becka and Ackerman, the latter sending two runs over the dish on a solid smash to right field with two away.

In the bottom of the eighth the Senators began an assault on young Alvarado that netted five runs. Ackerman led off with a double to left. DePillo laid down a sacrifice bunt. Ackerman taking third, Famiglietti singled to left and Ackerman tallied. Horne walked, Vizzini batted a single to right and plated Famiglietti from second. Mouton walked and "Cloutier" Becka stepped into a fast pitch and sent a screaming triple to deep

New Wilmington defeated the league leading No. 5 Vets 8-2 Tuesday evening in a playoff of a rain-out game at New Wilmington in the North County league.

Brush went the route for New Wilmington and held the Vets to six hits. Yeager started for the Vets but gave way to Hedigore in the fourth. Yeager was the loser. Brusk struck out six.

George Ratvasky had three of the New Wilmington hits, including two doubles. Ringbloom, Berresford, Dzurinda, A. Ratvasky and Borowicz had two hits apiece for the winners.

Hanna started for Volant and received credit for the win. Wilken finished. Combined they held the Civics to three hits—one each by Romeo, Lockwood and Davis.

Lockwood started for the Civics and was charged with the defeat. He was followed by Young and Minetti.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

JOE BROWN, commander of the Jewish War Veterans, stated today that five television sets will be formally presented to Deshon Veterans hospital July 27. The tele-sets will be placed in wards for the disabled. . . . Two of the best pitchers of a Montgomery field game at six Mahoning A.A. against the Saints and Jackie McCullough. Steve's son plays the infield for the Saints and Jackie McCullough, nephew of Paul, will also be in the infield. Jackie is a son of the late Sankey McCullough, one of the most promising ball players the county ever had. . . . An official of the Senators, after the victory of the Senators over Niagara Falls, said: "It was very inspiring to hear the cheers which greeted the Senators throughout the game. The applause and cheers made the boys feel as though they were among real friends." As pointed out by Here and There recently, a ball player is akin to an actor. "Give 'em some applause, and they'll work their heads off." In ye olden days New Castle in the O&P loop was known as "Nocktown", the name probably being a derivative from Neshannocks. If the fans and fanatics keep "rooting", the news will travel to other Mid-Atlantic cities, and the teams will all be glad to play here. . . . Forty-eight hopefuls of the Cleveland Browns will start training at Bowling Green, O. Seven of the newcomers have had previous pro' ball experience. Seventeen have just completed their collegiate careers. . . . Like Patterson, recent Cleveland visitor, reports Tom McMahon, the ex-heavy, looks in the pink of condition and was attired like a beau brummel. . . . Alderman Jimmie Brice plans to "take in" the Grand Circuit meet at North Randall, O. . . . "Coffee" Hanna, the Third ward constable, is relaxing after his trip to San Francisco.

JOHNNY DUNN, formerly of New Castle, now past three score and ten, who resides at Sharon, visited New Castle recently. He was a former steel mill worker here. . . . John Dennis, who keeps a close watch on the doing of major leaguers, is in the New Castle hospital with a broken hip, the result of a fall. He is the father of Jimmie who with the late Jack Holmes, promoted the Bernie Han-Patsy Branigan fight which lasted from 9 o'clock p.m. until almost 1 a.m. at Cascade Park, decades ago. . . . Jokey Travers, one of the commissioners, says there is no barrier to West Side playground ball teams using Pat'son field. A snow fence surrounds the field. Hard-hit balls go over the north embankments, and are lost. It is probable the field may be extended. Motorists who attend games there should be careful because of the narrowness of Lee Avenue. . . . Fans are preparing to see the County vs. City All-Stars clash Saturday night at Bessemer. All of the All-Stars were picked by ballot. Jim Martin will head the County team and George Zidow, the City circuit. The County All-Stars won the 1949 setto. . . . Sheriff, mayor and district attorney will be included in Commander Joe Brown's party which will present tele-sets to disabled at Deshon next week.

Gaston Post Takes Ambridge

Add First Playoff Victory Tuesday, 6-2

Perry S. Gaston Post 343 defeated Ambridge Legion 6-2 Tuesday in a Beaver-Lawrence county play-off tilt.

The victory was the first game in a best of three series to determine the two-county champ. The winner will play the Butler county champion and then be eligible for the state tournament.

Ambridge and New Castle meet again tonight at George Washington field at 6 o'clock.

DiOrlando spaced four Ambridge hits to get the win last night. He struck out four and walked two. Orlando's support was excellent and he hit at bat.

Shortstop John Sansone belted three hits in four trips. Two went for doubles. He also scored two runs.

Outfielders Costello and Ford helped Orlando with great catches in the field. Costello made two that verged on the sensational. Ford grabbed a tough one in the ninth to end the ball game.

Galbreath New Pirates Prexy

Frank McKinney Sells Out Interest

By JOHN GOLIGHTLY (A. R. A. Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Indianapolis banker Frank McKinney today sold his interest in the Pittsburgh Pirates to John Galbreath of Columbus, O., who immediately became president of the National League club.

McKinney said he will retain full ownership of the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association, and a full working agreement has been made with the Pirates.

Under the new set-up, Galbreath succeeds McKinney as president. Tom Johnson, former New Castle young man, is secretary-treasurer and Bing Crosby is vice-president. The four men were the major stockholders when the Pirates were sold in 1946.

After the sale was completed, Galbreath said there will be no managerial change this year. This reiterated the stand of the Pirate management in sticking by manager Bill Meyer, although the club is in last place.

Paul Minner's Fourth Victory Puts N L Pennant Fight In Three-Way Tie

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Three teams—Boston, Philadelphia and St. Louis—sport identical marks of 46 wins and 34 losses to share the number one position in the National League pennant chase after Tuesday's action.

Boston defeated Pittsburgh, Philadelphia split with the Cubs, and St. Louis stopped the Brooklyn Dodgers to bring about the three-way tie.

New Wilmington's Paul Minner turned back the Phillies 5-2 on seven hits in the first game of a double-header with the help of Bill Serena's two home runs. Robin Roberts was the loser. Minner again helped his own cause with a pair of hits. It was Minner's fourth victory.

Philadelphia blasted Bob Rush from the hill in the nightcap and won out, 8 to 3 behind Bubba Church.

Cardinals Win

The Cardinals snapped Brooklyn's winning streak over them at seven straight by turning back the Dodgers, 5 to 3. The Red Birds did all their scoring off loser Erv Palica in the fourth inning.

Montia Kennedy of the New York Giants had the misfortune of pitching a two-hitter and losing. The lefty allowed the Cincinnati Reds a pair of safeties, but one of them turned out to be a third inning homer by Virgil Stallcup and the Reds beat the Giants, 1 to 0.

Warren Spahn defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates for the first time this season when his mates pounded three Buc hurlers for fourteen hits and an 11 to 3 triumph. Walker Cooper hit a three-run homer for the winners.

Spahn allowed the Pirates six hits, including Gus Bell's two-run round-tripper as he registered his eleventh win.

Red Sox Win

The league-leading Detroit Tigers dropped a 12 to 9 slugfest to the Boston Red Sox. Eight pitchers gave up a total of 33 base hits in the free-swinging contest.

The loss cut Detroit's lead to 3 1/2 games as the New York Yankees walloped the St. Louis Browns, 12 to 1.

Lemon Wins 14th

Bob Lemon, winningest hurler in the majors, notched his fourteenth triumph of the season as the Cleveland Indians humbled the Philadelphia Athletics, 10 to 2.

Al Rosen took over the Major League leadership in homers when he hit his twenty-seventh with one on in the third inning.

In another night game Sandolo Consuegra hurled the Washington Senators to a 5 to 2 win over the Chicago White Sox.

The outfield will have Mike Mash, Sam Domenick and Nick Rotunno.

One of the features of the game will be the pitching of the Hutnicks, the elder predicting he will strike out his son, Steve, star shortstop of St. Margaret.

Uncle will oppose nephew when Paul McCullough twirls for the

Fire Brigade In Service At Power Plant

Many times power failures are thought of only from the standpoint of broken lines due to storms or similar accidents. While this may be true for most of the time, there is one element which is often overlooked.

Among the dangers involved in working with high voltage electrical equipment is the element of fire. Oil, used in cooling transformers and quenching arcs in oil circuit breakers which are located in substations, can be ignited by lightning, grounded circuits and faulty operation of equipment. Such a fire out of control may lead to lengthy delays in power restoration to an affected area.

The New Castle power plant of Pennsylvania Power company at West Pittsburg maintains a fire brigade which is constantly on duty and prepared for such emergencies. Special equipment is at their disposal for the fighting of any fires which might arise in the plant area. Several agents are available for extinguishing fires in electrical equipment, among them being carbon dioxide, carbon tetrachloride, dry chemical and water. A stream of water should never be trained upon any electrical equipment or on high voltage lines for water is a very good conductor of electricity.

A new type of nozzle discharges a diffused stream of water, thus eliminating the usual danger which accompanies such action if ordinary equipment was used. This type of nozzle can be used with safety on voltages as high as 250,000 volts. A cone-shaped spray is delivered by this nozzle, and not only is it effective on fires of an electrical nature, but it also is very good on all flames caused by inflammable liquids.

Second Session Of Summer School Starts Thursday

Classes will begin Thursday for the second session of summer school at Westminster college.

Enrollment for the first term was 280 and approximately the same number of students were expected to attend the final session. The college summer school work is being handled by nine visiting professors and 22 local faculty members under the direction of Dr. Everett L. Handy. The college is offering 60 courses with special subjects of teacher interest.

Musician Seeks Pay For Ruined Hair

PLYMOUTH—(INS)—Theodoros Peonides possessed a magnificent head of black, wavy shiny hair.

And being a musician Theodoros set great store by it. Then on November 27, 1949, Theodoros went to a hair-dresser, one Charles Ellis of King street, Plymouth, to get his hair dyed as it was getting tinged of gray in it.

The day after treatment, Theodoros had a severe attack of dermatitis. Then he lost some of that shiny black hair.

Recently at Plymouth County Court, Theodoros, a Cypriot, pianist and tenor, aged 46, was awarded $168 damages and costs against Ellis for negligence.

David Nash, lawyer for Theodoros, had this to say of that, once "magnificent head of hair."

"This is accepted in musical circles as part and parcel of a musician who wants to appeal to his public."

Half Billion Chickens On Farms Of U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Officials estimate the nation's number of baby chicks and young chickens on farms July 1 at 490,200,000, the smallest number for this date since 1937. Experts say the low chicken population is due to a lessening in demand this year for farm block replacements.

The main season for producing chicks for farm flock replacements is about over. Commercial hatcheries produced 99,240,000 chicks during June. This is 15 per cent below June last year and two per cent under the June, 1944-48 average.

Chick production for the remainder of the year will be mainly for the commercial broiler industry, for which the present demand is very strong and above that of a year ago.

Compared with June last year chick production varied considerably across the country. Practically no change occurred in the Pacific coast states. Reported increases were eight per cent in the south Atlantic states, six per cent in New England, and two per cent in the southwest central states.

A 50 per cent drop is reported in the west north central region, 27 per cent in the east north central, 23 per cent in the mountain, 12 per cent in the east south central and 10 per cent in the middle Atlantic states.

The Suez canal in Egypt is more than twice as long as the 50½-mile Panama canal. It is 103 miles long.

Good Taste

By FRANCES MARTEL

Travel Outfit For The Bride
"When I leave for my honeymoon, I plan to wear a blue suit, hat, shoes and to carry a blue bag, with which I shall wear a white blouse, white orchid corsage and white gloves. Do you think this is too much blue? Mother plans to wear to my wedding a gray crepe dress. What accessories do you suggest?"

Answer: Your "going away" ensemble should be most attractive and not too much blue.

Your mother might choose a gray hat exactly to match her dress, with which she might wear black shoes and black gloves. If she is not successful in matching her gray dress, a black hat would be very appropriate.

Question: My husband is about to attend a business convention and would like some pointers on hotel registration.

Answer: If registering for himself, a man enters his name and address as: John Smith, New York

City, omitting all titles, such as Mr., Major, Senator, etc., the exception being "Dr." which hotels prefer to be added in case of emergency among other guests. If a man's wife accompanies him, he should register "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith" and not "John Smith and wife."

Question: Is it permissible to leave the table to dance while the dinner is in progress?

Answer: Yes, but you should not leave to dance at the beginning of a course. Dancers should wait until the hostess and other guests have finished a course, before leaving the table. And don't forget your "excuse us, please" as you depart.
